SAUER 101 FIELDSHOOT MAXIMUM STABILITY ON TARGET.

Precision and ergonomics combined – the Sauer 101 Fieldshoot is the ideal companion for the shooting range or predator hunting. It impresses with a grey laminated wooden stock that can be perfectly adjusted to the shooter's individual needs.

In addition, the 560 mm precision barrel, with a diameter of 19 mm at the muzzle, provides the stability required for long shooting sessions and long-range shots. The DLC coating on the barrel and receiver ensures absolute protection against corrosion.

SAUER 101 WOLVERINE THE PRECISE PREDATOR HUNTER.

Like its namesake, the Sauer 101 Wolverine is powerful and resilient. Its compact overall length makes it easy to handle and precise. The ergonomically optimised GTI laminated wooden stock with adjustable comb ensures a secure shot and optimal control. The 510 mm heavy barrel supports precise accuracy even during long shooting sessions.

Due to its DLC-coated barrel and receiver, the Sauer 101 Wolverine is durable and robust, withstanding all weather conditions.
